Biography

Amy Pollock practices civil defense litigation. Her experience includes construction defects, wrongful death, personal injury matters, product liability, and professional liability.

Prior to her move to Texas in 2003, Amy was a prosecutor for the Pennsylvania Department of State, Bureau of Professional and Occupational Affairs, where she sought disciplinary action against licensees who were in violation of a state statute or had otherwise engaged in unprofessional conduct that warranted prosecution.

Amy was named a "Texas Rising Star" in 2007 by Thomson Reuters as published in Texas Monthly magazine, an honor reserved for 2.5 percent of lawyers under 40 years old who have been practicing law for less than 10 years.
