Michelle O. Edens is a seasoned attorney with more than 20 years of experience handling civil litigation, insurance defense, complex litigation, mass tort matters, personal injury claims, medical malpractice cases, regulatory compliance issues, and investigations. She brings a broad and diverse legal background, with experience evaluating and managing matters from both plaintiff and defense perspectives.

Michelle has extensive experience developing litigation strategies, analyzing liability and damages exposure, conducting legal research, and managing complex cases through all stages of litigation. Her practice includes discovery, motion practice, depositions, case evaluation, evidentiary analysis, settlement negotiations, and trial preparation. She is particularly skilled at identifying key factual and legal issues, assessing litigation risks, and providing practical, results-oriented solutions.

In addition to her litigation experience, Michelle has a strong background in regulatory compliance, risk assessment, and investigations. She has worked closely with organizational leadership and multidisciplinary teams to address legal and operational challenges, conduct investigations, evaluate compliance concerns, and implement effective strategies to mitigate risk.

Michelle's experience includes the review and analysis of complex evidentiary records, mass tort and asbestos litigation matters, personal injury defense analysis, and medical malpractice claims. Her attention to detail, analytical approach, and ability to manage demanding caseloads make her a valuable advocate for clients facing complex legal challenges.

Michelle earned her Juris Doctor from the University of South Carolina School of Law and her Bachelor of Science in Business Management from the University of South Carolina. She is admitted to practice in Texas, South Carolina, and Washington, D.C.
