THE WILLIS LAW GROUP

Raphael Qiu
Senior Associate

Houston, TX Office:
17040 El Camino Real
Suite 300
Houston, TX 77058

Raphael has successfully represented clients (ranging from individuals to corporations like ExxonMobil) on personal injury (car and trucking accidents, premises liability, and toxic torts) and insurance cases in addition to business and construction litigation and transactions.

Having lived in China and the US, Raphael has experience working with and counseling both international (including Chinese, Malaysian, and Singaporean) and domestic clients on legal strategies in order to grow and add value to their businesses. Raphael speaks Mandarin Chinese (native proficiency) and French (conversational proficiency). He constantly seeks to communicate timely and work closely with his clients and develop innovative strategies in order to efficiently and effectively resolve their legal issues from case inception up through and including trial/arbitration.

Experience:

- Represented Chinese American owned construction and building materials supplier in collecting unpaid invoices and debts.
- Represented a Singapore businessman on a breach of contract claim against a Dallas company.
- Represented Chinese American owned company on Galveston real estate joint venture.
- Represented Chinese, Singaporean, and Taiwanese individuals and companies in partnership, franchise, trademark, and commercial payment disputes/lawsuits.
- Provided contracts and legal documents and advice to top US human resources company doing business in China.

Education

- J.D., University of Florida College of Law, 2015
- B.A., University of Florida, 2011

Bar Admissions

- State Bar of Texas
- United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas